About This Course

Dr. Straty Righellis will present a fast-paced, one-day presentation on "What Really Works" in clinical orthodontics. This course is for the orthodontist with a vibrant practice who wants to make it even better.

Course Topics

- The topics will include up-to-date research information and clinical results in self-ligation bracket efficiency and finishing
- Dr Righellis's approach to Class II correction will be shared as well as the missing lateral incisor cases will be discussed; techniques will be shown to make these cases 'sizzle'.
- A special feature will be the business side of orthodontics; business techniques will be given so you can analyze what you are doing, who are you targeting so your clinical expertise can be experienced by more clients.
